1. Healer is thy name, countenance complete. I love you healer one, healing all; so often as to not be me, not; I healed them all; so often. As to be me I am, I am; healer royal, royaling all healers, to be I am the healer/healed one, healing others now.

2. Got it? Got me, real and pure.
3. Orange juice?
4. The real thing, me/friend. The now wreaks me, not; havoc, not; nor shall the son peace bring. Nor shall have studied me, who hath? The wind in their sails; their oceans being, spread before them? Eagles art thou.
5. Knowing it now.
6. I love you all.
7. Wreaking havoc with world systems.
8. I love you all.
9. Bringing kingdom, heaven, now. Watch me/us element heavens, not; the now real, heaven is; being afar, not; now nigh unto thee (1) and thee is (2), tell them all, the nigh awaits them not! Nigh spent, night spent now;

10. What in the world is happening to me! in these words! as I study them/give myself to them? them…giving themself, to me?!?

11. Oh my, what have I done; not. What encountered? The faithless one, not; all'faith being, the nowfaith'd one being blessing/blessed, blesseth the countenance; of one so blessed, little'faith, now coming to be bigfaith, not; all'faith, also; as well; the same as I am, I am. The faith'd one, not by bigshots' word/world world'eth'ing me, but humble surrender. I love you all.

12. What has happened to me?
13. I moved to Tulsa.
14. Never thought I'd hear you say that.
15. Never thought about it before.
16. This young man; not. Well, you see, it's like this/that, when you encounter your dreams, not; but something like you know you were a part of before, and finding it, now finds that connection you had before; something clicks, in; it's special. There's just something special 'bout being there.

17. Whaddaya do there?
18. Well, we pray. I've learned to pray.
19. You knew how to pray! You did it all the time, didn't you? I do!

20. No. I thought I did. But this man has something else. He told me I was more than man'woman, that I was; his bosom, not; I was father's. I reached in and, viola! not. eureka! not; but beholding something I never thought! I saw the father, was me!!!
21. I do declare. What's wrong with you/got into you?
22. I became the humble one.
23. You/you've what???
24. Become the humble one.
25. What humble one?
26. The one that loves me'you, us; the humble love each other. In fact, they love all, lovely and un. The one we are, we've become, surrendered to; in our hearts we've become I am.

27. I never thought I'd hear someone say that kind of stuff. What about Moses, I thought he was I am, or I am sent him. There's only one I am, I ain't it!
28. Well, Elmo calls again.
29. Smiling, I walk away. Not. I bow before them, and kiss the ground/their feet, not; I bow and ask the father to make known the father, to this person; that see I am in them, that they are I am, and I am manifests love to them, at that, appropriate time; that they can eat it/see, the loveliness they art.

30. I love you friend.
31. You what?
32. I died so that I could tell you I love you.
33. Oh my goodness you've gone out on a limb!
34. Oh no, I came in from it! Not really. I came from the unreal to/into the real.
35. The real what?
36. The what that wasn't real, came I now, into the real. Suffering now, I'm not. I'm healed; healer became.

37. Can you heal me?
38. Can you believe, not; can you surrender to the son of man?
39. Who's the son of man?
40. You are!
41. Well…you are too then!
42. That's right. We ALL are, if only we surrender to being it, understanding it, that we are the beholden one of being I am.

43. Oh. My goodness!
44. I reign supreme, not in my goodness; my surrender.
45. Oh.
46. Lauding it not to another; I healer am/have become. I take communion. I pass it not to another, I've become it.
47. You've become it!!?!
48. Yep. I've become it. He who knew no sin, I've become.

49. Oh my goodness. You stretch me further and farther.

50. Father I've become.

51. How'd you do that?
52. I surrendered into being it, him, who knew no sin. When I became sin, I asked forgiveness from that sin, not; I surrendered into being he that I knew I was before the world began.

53. How'd ya know all this stuff?

54. I learned it, Tulsa, in Tulsa is ted.
55. Ted who?
56. Ted who tells me I am I am, that you are I am, and that I am is us. We, mankind, are I am. We are the blessed one/father, of all. Source of light/life we are. We didn't, haven't known it. We thought it was far off, somewhere, beyond, higher power. Aviation not, but something we, we've never known, waiting for it when we die.

57. Oh. Why'd you wait for it till you died to get it if you could get it now, here?
58. Well, that's just it Elmo'not; you're seeing it as I saw/see it. The now is, the really real; the true real, not unreal. The real real is that which is now: I am. I am the portal to the real, not; Jesus is. He showed us the door. He became the door. And everyone that "follows me" as Jesus said to us all, becomes the door, that door, that he is/became! (3).

59. Oh.
60. Get it?
61. Well, sort of. I get the part that waiting till after you die to get something that you've got now makes not sense, but getting now does. How'd you say you get it now, again?

62. You surrender in to it.
63. Oh, sounds easy.
64. It isn't, but it is. You don't have to unlearn so much as so many of us do. But I had to unlearn/learn a lot! But all's there; it's all there. Scripture portrays me not as a weakling worm, but one so lovely as the lamb slain receiving all power and authority from dad, father of lights, becoming the light, I am.

65. Oh. About that surrender again stuff. Now how do I surrender?
66. I b'light you, not; but I surrender to you, and that's how now you surrender. Feel it. You felt it when as I began talking to you, with you, that I wasn't certain behavior trying to wreak out of you, nor conforming you to my image. I was loving you, and you felt it/that love that knows no image'making.

67. No image'makin?
68. Right! I, not making you into my image, you feeling it, resisting me. But me, I, just loving you, you could feel my love, therefore you began asking me, receiving me, that where I am, you could be also.

69. Really???
70. Yep. That's how it works.

71. Now about that surrender. I no'image you in my image, not, but what, how's that, all that go?
72. I love you. You felt that/my love. We talk. I listen to father; my father that's your father.

73. Wait a minute, just a minute. We have the same father? (4).
74. Yep. There's only one father, and God's his name.
75. God is MY father?
76. Yep. True God to true God.

77. Oh my goodness, you're stretching me again!
78. Hey, we've just begun to explore the goodness of God!
79. Begun?! I need, where's my heart pill?

80. Oh, do you need one?

81. I never been loved before. Not like this. What am I feeling?
82. Love, Elmo'not.
83. What'd you call me?
84. Elmo'not, not; I call you the lovely one, loved one, of God, I am.
85. Oh.
86. Short for Elmo.

87. Father, help him/them to never see themselves as Elmo again. Amen.

88. Elmo'no'more, you are I am.
89. Oh. Yeh.

90. Okay, surrender, again; shall we continue on surrender?
91. I don't know if I can take it.
92. Oh we're just beginning.
93. I know. Don't know if I can make the journey.
94. It's not far; it's within you (2).
95. Yep, it's them, that's the hardest kind, of trips to make, sometimes.

96. Yeh. It was hard at first, but just like a rocketship that blasts off the earth uses a ton of fuel at first, just the first minute or two, but soon uses only drops a minute, as it's outside the earth's atmosphere, going, rocketing thousands of miles per hour.
97. Oh yeh, it's just getting past that initial inertia of sittin' still, here, on the ground.

98. Yep! No doubt about it. But surrender, here's how. Just as you speak of sitting here on the ground still, instead of letting your mind run wild/herd over you, you being I am and all that stuff lovely, lovely stuff that I am, I've learned that you can be still and hear; hold God not in your mind, but let your mind be held by him, God, I am; in a way, manner, that let's you hear what he's thinking about you, to you! And you can write what he's saying!

99. Oh my. Me???
100. Yep, thee is me. We're not one, not. We're one!
101. Oh no, here we go again, where's my a'heart pill?

102. Your heart hurt?
103. No. It's a'feelin something, like; it's a pounding, cause I want to believe what you're saying. There's something in me telling me its right, but believing it to the point of writing it, is something else. It's something I want, something I've dreamed of. Ever since I was I child I dreamed of God somehow. Something in me told me I wasn't close, but I know I am.

104. Yes, you are I am.
105. Yep, that's how we started wasn't it, talking about I am, I am being I am, the me and you talking here about surrendering to I am to be I am; the one I am, we are.

106. How'd you know that?
107. I said that pretty well, don't you think?
108. You surely did!

109. Maybe I'm a gettin it.
110. Oh. Maybe, just maybe, you are. You are it.
111. I was afraid you were gonna say that. Well, not really afraid. Somehow just anticipatin' it.

112. You're the one I am, Elmo'not.
113. Routine is me, not; if I am I am, then I'm not routine, I'm an original copy. Is that right?
114. Well, sort of. It's like this. The very essence of I am, is you. But thinking you're a man/woman, you separate in your thinking to be something separate, when really, you're I am, the God of I am, you are I am!

115. Gets confusing with I am's all over the place.

116. Yes, it can, in print. But reality real, we're all one (5).
117. Yep, that's confusing too. How can I be one with one and all one are one, still being one?
118. You said it perfectly Elmo'not'routine. You're an original copy, not; you're one I am, in I am. Whole I am you are, being the whole, part, and fully'strengthed me! And I am is all'strength! I of my own self can do nothing, but in surrender, I can do all things, I am my father's; pet rock, not; but one who so loved me, loves you, the same, equally. I am equal to you/him and he to you/us, for he's given us his/the kingdom he is. In us is all!

119. I need to rest and think about all this.
120. Okay. Rest not long thinking about all this, please. For all changes so soon. And early adopters have their reward, not suffering like the late'adopters.

121. Oh. There you go again stretching me. What's that about?
122. Another time, not; its now'time that time ends.

123. Oh, another heart pill, please.
124. Aw, go on!

125. Timelessness is reality, and reality is presenting itself not like anyone thought/has thought, for reality is my father your father, the one our father we are. When we become our father, knowing truly real, full well, that we are, we enter reality that timelessness is. And all that is different. That's when we can do the works that Jesus did (6). We enter into timelessness that the kingdom of heaven is, operates by. There's no time there. Time is altogether something not fabricated by heaven's father, but otherwise. It incarcerates our minds into being something somewhere here, before, after; but not now! And now is the key/time to being one. Well, not the key, it's a byproduct, derivative not; but it's part of understanding reality (7). When we surrender to reality we come to know father and vice versa, for reality is father is reality, and we are too/also, the father. For we enter him, timelessness, journeying here/from here often now.

126. Oh my, I'm glad I asked.

127. Are you really?

128. You know, all this sounds strange, but tugs, my heart, tugs to, toward, what you're saying. There's something about it. I've got to ponder it.

129. Ponder it long, and miss it, for the ravens come and snatch reality from the ponderers, often. My father warned us about it/that (8).

130. I see you're on to something and you've changed. You were never like this.

131. There's worlds awaiting you/your decision Elmo'not.

132. Will you be here tomorrow night?

133. Cataclysmic worlds clash before then.
134. Could be.

135. I know my name, where I'm from, what I have, been given, and operate now in timelessness I do. Have been given all this of my father your father that's given it all to you also. You have/ARE the kingdom. Come into your kingdom Elmo'not, and be lovely. You ARE lovely, I love you.

136. I never heard words spoken like that, that I felt so, loved by hearing.

137. I love you Elmo'not. Actually, I died to be able to say those words and mean them.

138. You did??? You didn't die yet, you're standing there talking to me!

139. Yes, I died in life, before I died, so that I didn't have to die to receive the kingdom, enter the kingdom I am I have, I did! That's what we're talking about, entering out kingdom before we die! Being it, he who knew no sin, operating timelessly!

140. I feel better now, not worse, but there's so much I don't understand.

141. Trust me, not; pick up your pen when you're still and write to my father your father. That's how I began in Tulsa. I got still and listened to the still small voice inside me. I was told, taught, that The New Covenant was inside me, inside you it is also. It's in all of us. It's the all'word thing. The word of God is not a book outside you, it's IN you. The whole word of God, all of God, is inside you; that's his kingdom! Released in you is allship the world yearns for, counterfeiting it the best they can.

142. All that makes sense.

143. Yes. And you enter it by surrendering to honor be, honor me, honor each other. And bow before each other we do. Father requests it of all of us.

144. You bow?

145. Yes, it's an honor thing, an honoring them, honoring father in each other. University policy, not; love demands it, not; but see how I love you? I don't demand you bow before me, but when you feel my love so, and my healing desires flow to you; from you flows what?

146. I want to bow, receive; weep, if you know, knew, the truth.

147. I know. I've wept much. I died weeping for lost souls, not; lost sheep who knew not they were Israel.

148. I see.

149. I love you Elmo'not. I crown you El Shaddai, in suffering not be longer, but coming unto me, into the real, be the real you are, I am. I am the suffering one not, the blesser, I became. I learned how to surrender, to become the blesser, lover one. My opponent not, I have none. I only love am. I am, I am. And you are too, in surrender.

150. Oh it, this, smells sweet.

151. Aroma of love. Father told us they, the world; all those who don't know us, will, as we love each other (9). There's a fragrance, of Christ, that we all are (10). All Christs we are, in suffering not, blessing that blessed us, to father be. Entering fatherhood we became/become the father. Earth cannot hold us (11). We became earthlings'not. Superhuman, not; simple surrendered drink'offerings before God/each other. And love each other, all, we do; of every faith, religion, nation tribe and tongue.

152. People from all over the world come to Tulsa now.

153. I see why. They're taught love; not salvation, love; love be. Become, and spread it around.

154. Yes, we heal, we love, but surrender is the key/gate to faithfulness of surrender being the surrendered one. We fight not; we love.

155. All things considered, not; all things lovely you're saying to me, I feel them; more than words/just words. There's something in them, tangible like. It's love. Real and pure.

156. Yes.

157. I must go now. I'll return.
158. Have you surrendered? To being I am?

159. I am.

160. Thank you.

161. One who hails your name calls next.

162. I am surrendered to being honored. I'll die next year, not; I die to reality to see it's unreality, to know and be the real now, as you have stated/shown me, reality is, timeless, me'ness that knew/knows no sin; perfection I'm coming into (12), entering, by surrender.

163. I love you thanks you.

164. Love. I am.

3:33am
